LANGUAGE, LITERACY AND NUMERACY

Ag Training recognises that all vocational training includes language, literacy and numeracy tasks and all Ag Training trainers and assessors provide:

- opportunities for independent practice.

To identify the students' ability in numeracy and literacy, Ag Training requires that students complete a Numeracy & Literacy test prior to commencing any training. This test is of the same complexity as the skills required working in the industry.

While inability to complete the test may exclude the student from participating in the course, Ag Training is bound by equal opportunity policies, and may suggest options to increase the student's skills in numeracy and literacy to the required level.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING:

Students who consider they already possess the competencies identified in all or part of any course/qualification offered by Ag Training will be encouraged to seek formal Recognition of their skills and knowledge.

The Recognition process may also be referred to as Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Recognition of Current Competence (RCC). It is the determination on an individual basis of the competencies obtained by a student through:

- previous formal training,
- work experience, and/or
- life experience

Recognition therefore determines the consequent advanced standing to which the student is entitled in relation to a course/qualification.

The main focus of Recognition is what has been learned rather than how, where or when it was learned.

Recognition focuses on both the demonstration of competence and the currency of that competence to industry standards.

If any student has gained competencies at work or elsewhere which are relevant to the course/qualification in which he/she is participating, then he/she may not have to study module(s)/unit(s) of competence covering that content. Students seeking Recognition must establish the currency of their competence. The processes used to determine Recognition are fair to all parties and Ag Training ensures that it provides adequate support to all potential applicants.

It is the student's responsibility to gather sufficient evidence to support his/her application for Recognition. This evidence may include:

- obtaining a copy of the relevant units of competency from Ag Training
- aligning the competencies for the qualification with the competencies associated with previous education, training or workplace experience
- collecting any documentation, references and relevant examples to support your application
- providing proof of ownership of any examples of work
- submitting certified copies (NOT ORIGINALS) of qualifications. Certification can generally be obtained from any bank or Post Office as long as identification is provided.

Recognition Process

1. An applicant applying for recognition of prior learning in any of the units of competency offered by Ag Training will be given access to the unit of competency so that they may determine their eligibility to apply for the recognition they seek.
2. If the applicant wishes to continue, they will be requested to complete an application form for RPL.
3. The applicant will be advised of the type of evidence that is required in order for them to be assessed by a person who has the qualifications to assess the application. This evidence may include former work history, job descriptions, examples of workplace activities and practices, documentation, certificates or evidence of attendance at seminars etc.

4. If the applicant wishes to continue with their application, they will be requested to
 - Enrol in the unit of competency in which they are seeking recognition and pay the relevant fee
 - Arrange an interview with a trainer/assessor from Ag Training who has been appointed by Ag Training in order to discuss their application and its potential outcome. At the interview with the applicant, the trainer/assessor will make a preliminary assessment of the type of evidence supplied by the applicant, and if further evidence or further assessment is required, the applicant will be advised. This evidence may include knowledge questions relating to the unit of competency and or a Practical Skills Assessment.
5. All applicants must then submit their fully completed application form and evidence required that must be certified by a Justice of the Peace or a Commissioner for Affidavits.
6. Upon receipt of the completed application form and accompanying evidence, the trainer/assessor appointed by Ag Training will make an assessment on the outcome of the application.
7. The outcome of the assessment will be documented on the application form and advised to the student in writing.
8. The applicant will have the right of appeal. This policy is documented in The Student Handbook and in the Policy and Procedure No. 1: Complaints and Appeals.
9. Upon successful application by the student a result will be recorded against the applicant's name and a Statement of Attainment will be issued. For all applicants enrolling in a Certificate course the RPL result will be recorded in their Training Plan

Credit Transfer

Recognition can also include the opportunity for Credit Transfer for previous study and must also be accompanied by evidence of currency in the study area.

“Skill Test”

If a student is unable to supply documentary evidence to support their Recognition application they may be required to sit for a “Skill Test” to determine competency.

APPEALS PROCESS

An appeals and re assessment process is an integral part of all training and assessment pathways leading to a nationally recognised qualification or Statement of Attainment under the Australian Recognition Framework.

A fair and impartial appeals process is available to students of Ag Training. If a student wishes to appeal his/her assessment result, he/she may first discuss the issue with the trainer/assessor. If the student would like to proceed further with the request after discussions with the trainer/assessor a formal request is made in writing outlining the reason(s) for the appeal. This is forwarded to the CEO who will take responsibility for implementing a formal process and who will record the appeal in writing.
